

Usc Dental Continuing Education

Usc Dental Continuing Education - The Herman Ostrow School of Dentistry of USC Continuing Professional Education is dedicated to ongoing learning in dentistry and related fields, and is committed to promoting and improving the knowledge of all oral health care providers as well as the health of all people through clinical and scientific courses and programs. Herman Ostrow School of Dentistry of USC. Academic Programs. Doctor of Dental Surgery (DDS) Dental Hygiene (BS) Advanced Standing Program for International Dentists (DDS) Postgraduate Education Certificate Programs; Master of Science in Biomaterials and Digital Dentistry; Master of Science in Biomedical Implants and Tissue Engineering (BITE) The USC Office of Continuing Oral Health Professional Education is dedicated to ongoing learning in dentistry and related fields and is committed to promoting and improving the knowledge of all oral health care providers as well as the health of all people through clinical and scientific courses and programs. It develops and coordinates courses and programs to promote excellent training and ...